

Client: Notting Hill Housing Group
Outcome: Secure with Amthal Fire & Security

Amthal Fire & Security has secured the tender for Notting Hill Housing Group to provide total electronic security solutions and maintenance across the social enterprise's three office locations in London.

Notting Hill Housing Group is a leading London housing association and one of the most innovative in the UK, dedicated to creating 21st century neighborhoods for the capital.

Notting Hill Housing Group has three offices across London, including King's Cross, Hammersmith and Vauxhall. All three sites require high quality protection for all staff on site, whilst not compromising on the welcoming environment for visitors.

Across the multiple locations and having worked closely with the site management team for over a 10 year period, Amthal Fire & Security has developed a total electronic security solution, implementing state of the art intruder alarms, CCTV, access control and innovative automated door systems as and where required. Following the first tender issued from the Housing Group, Amthal Fire & Security is now also responsible for security maintenance across the three sites.
